Description

Nestled in the picturesque landscape of the Val di Chiana Cortonese this restored farmhouse is located in absolute tranquility.

The dirt road to the property leads to a large, well-kept garden with olive trees, other trees, and flowerbeds, which envelop the house in an atmosphere of tranquility.

The swimming pool, located in a quiet part of the garden, invites you to relax.

The two-story building combines original architectural elements with modern comforts.

The ground floor opens into an entrance hall leading to a large living room. Exposed wooden beams and a fireplace emphasize the coziness of the country house. Directly off the living room is the kitchen, which combines functionality and rustic style and offers direct access to the garden. A double bedroom with an en-suite bathroom and an adjoining wardrobe completes this floor offering comfort and privacy.

Upstairs are two further bright bedrooms. Another bathroom is also available on this floor.

The property is in meticulous and high-quality condition. The restoration was carried out using traditional materials and complemented by functional touches. The interior layout is rational and functional.

The outdoor area offers an atmosphere of tranquility and privacy.

The property is connected to the public electricity and water mains. The heating system is powered by LPG and features a newly installed boiler.

Thanks to the existing hot/cold inverters there is also air conditioning and a private well connected to the automatic irrigation system.

The farmhouse is suitable for both private use and tourist rental, as is already the case.
